

Get better internet for you and your residents.

Google Fiber gigabit internet means whole home Wi-Fi and up to 10x faster downloads and 86x faster uploads than cable internet* for your property. But it also means making things way easier on you and your residents, too.

Here's what that looks like:

One straightforward price.

$70/mo for Google Fiber gigabit internet.

No annual contracts.

Cancel any time.

No data caps

Your data should be unlimited. So it is.

No hidden fees. No, really.

No need to buy any extra equipment. Router? Check. Wi-Fi? Check. You're all set.

Wi-Fi that covers your whole home.

That means corner-to-corner Wi-Fi coverage with the help of Google Wifi. No equipment fees. Just a steady, strong connection for you and all your devices.

Easy installation.

Get your internet self-installed in no time or installed by a pro. No installation fees included.

Watch TV and save money.

The average household can save $600-$1200 when they cut out cable and switch to streaming over gigabit internet.¹

24/7 customer service.

Our customers voted us PCMag's Best Internet Service Provider for Customer Service (plus a few more things).

© 2020 Google Fiber Inc. *Speed claim based on the FCC's December 14, 2018 Measuring Broadband America report, using the US weighted median speed experienced with cable of 97 Mbps for download and 11 Mbps for upload. Plus applicable taxes and fees. 1: Source: Leichtman Research Group, 11/15/19, based on the average monthly spending on Pay TV of $109.60 per month, compared to streaming service prices of $0 - $50 per month. New customers with eligible plans may receive up to two Google Wifi points. Home size, materials, and layout can affect how the Wi-Fi signal travels. Larger homes or homes with thicker walls or long, narrow layouts may need extra Wifi points for full coverage.

Google Fiber